

Chester Church reopens in time for Mothering Sunday

St Peter's Church is delighted to announce that the Prohibition Order imposed by Cheshire West and Chester Council on 17 February which resulted in the closure of the building, has been lifted today and the church will be open to the public again from Sunday 19 March.

The Vicar of St Peter's, the Revd Jonathan Phillips, said today "We have worked very hard in the last four weeks to implement the remedial measures on the East Wall which were recommended by our professional advisors. We are very grateful to Recclesia, who have carried out the works in such a prompt, professional and diligent manner. We have kept CWAC officials informed every step of the way and are grateful that they have today lifted the restrictions imposed on 17 February. We look forward to welcoming people back to our services on Sunday 19th, which is of course Mothering Sunday! Our Cafe will be reopening on Tuesday 21st March.

We are very excited about being able to open our doors again with our wellbeing groups, meals and amazing volunteer team who are eager to serve our customers and care for all those that need company, a listening ear or someone to support them. Everyone one is welcome!"
